Valachi found guilty of forging PTC check

Jury deliberates less than 30 minutes

By NAN PATTON EHBRIGHT

A Hancock County jury which spent much of its time outside the courtroom during a one-day trial Tuesday took less than 30 minutes to reach a verdict finding Dominic Valachi guilty of forgery.

Valachi, a former candidate for the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, was charged with forging a $1,500 check on the account of the Gulfview Elementary School Parent-Teacher Club and cashing it June 29, 1983 at the Coleman Avenue branch of Merchants Bank in Waveland.

Following his conviction Circuit Judge James Thomas sentenced Valachi, 41, formerly of BaySide Park and now of Marrero, La., to ten years in the state penitentiary.

Prior to sentencing, Thomas noted Valachi's police record and a 1981 conviction of felony theft in New Orleans.

Valachi was placed on probation for three years following his conviction.

Valachi also faces charges in Hancock County of forgery, possessing a forged PTC check in the amount of $300 on June 29, 1983, and burglary of a swimming pool supply store.

The jury was in the courtroom for several hours while Assistant District Attorneys J.P. Comprett and Margaret Alfonso and Public Defender William Frisbie argued Frisbie's motion to suppress a taped statement Valachi gave at the Hancock County Sheriff's Office July 18, 1983, the day he was arrested.

On the tape Valachi admitted cashing the check after signing the names of Bonnie Allison and Ann Valachi on the front of the check and signing his own name on the back.

Allison was PTC president in 1982-83 and Ann Valachi, Valachi's wife, was treasurer.

Although new officers had been elected, no new signature cards had been issued and the two women were the only ones authorized to sign checks on the PTC account.

Judge Thomas ruled the tape could be introduced after both Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay and Sheriff Ronnie Peterson testified Valachi had been given his Miranda rights, had not requested an attorney and had not resisted questioning.

Valachi asserted that he was given his Miranda rights only after he had, at Seay's request, filled out some 28 checks and submitted some 40 handwriting samples on Mississippi Crime Laboratory form.

But Seay, citing his many years' experience in law enforcement, said "I don't even ask anybody's name without giving the Miranda rights."

Allison, a guidance counselor at Gulfview Elementary School, testified that after election to succeed his wife as PTC treasurer Valachi left the spring 1983 PTC meeting with a briefcase containing the club's financial records and checkbooks.

She said she had neither signed nor authorized the $1,500 check.

All expenditures exceeding $50 required approval by majority vote of the PTC members, she explained, saying the group was raising money to purchase air-conditioning equipment for the school.

Allison said the matter came to her attention when Gulfview Principal William Haddock called her after receiving a bank statement on the PTC account.

Subsequently Hancock County School District Superintendent Terrell Randolph contacted the sheriff's office about the forgery.

Allison also testified that sometime that spring Valachi had approached her and asked if he could borrow money from the PTC account for his personal use, and she told him that was not allowable.

Frisbie argued that the prosecution had not proved Valachi forged the check, implying the taped confession was made under duress.

"The way to prove forgery is to get a handwriting expert put him on the stand and have at it," he said.

Seay testified he did not send Valachi's handwriting samples to the crime lab because he did not feel it was necessary after Valachi gave his statement.

Valachi did not testify.

"He can take the rap for someone if he wants to," Frisbie said in his closing argument.

"The question in my mind is: Who did the forgery?"

The jury decided it was Valachi.

OTHER COURT MATTERS

In other criminal court proceedings this week:

—Charles Boggs Jr., of Waveland, 37, pled guilty to a charge of burglarizing the Palace Club in Bay St. Louis on Dec. 5, 1983.

He was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary, with sentence suspended, and placed on probation for three years.

He was also ordered to pay restitution of $100, plus $100 attorney fees and $100 in court costs per month for three years.

$1.5 million Bay complex planned next to high school

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A local developer anticipates construction will begin in about three months on a $1.5 million apartment complex next to Bay Senior High School in Bay St. Louis.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees at a Monday night meeting authorized newspaper legal advertisements seeking bids for an approximate one-fourth-acre strip of property along the northwest boundary of the school land from Blue Meadow Road which would allow a boulevard entrance to the complex.

Joe Buccola, coordinator-selling agent of Buccola Real Estate Bay St. Louis, reported Tuesday that 2.5 acres owned by William Breland of Waveland will be purchased for the 40-unit complex to be named Blue Meadow Apartments.

Lucien Gex, school board attorney, just after the meeting pointed out on a map that the Breland property is adjacent to the school grounds and in relation to Blue Meadow Road is behind land owned by the Hemmersbach family on that thoroughfare.

Buccola said the elongated trapezium of school property the district plans to sell will allow construction of a boulevard entrance to the two-story apartments as required by Farmers Home Administration, the financing entity.

Gex reported that in addition to the land purchase price, the buyer will be required to erect a six-foot-high chain link fence with three strands of barbed wire on top.

J.D. McCullouch, superintendent of education, said the buyer will also be required to install underground drainage culverts where needed.

This fence will be built along the shared property line of complex and school grounds from Blue Meadow Road to the back corner of the apartment land, the attorney said.

Buccola reported the apartments will be owned by Sam Marsh, a Gulfport attorney.

"We should begin construction in 90 days if everything goes smoothly," Buccola said.

He reported construction of the two-story brick buildings with mansard roofs should be completed by December.

The real estate agent said there would be an equal number of one and two bedroom apartments in the complex.

Jack McConahey of South Bay Builders, Inc. of Biloxi, the contracting company for the project, said Wednesday that the complex will consist of five eight-unit apartment houses with a laundry and office building.

Buccola explained the unfurnished apartments, including all-electric kitchen appliances, would rent for about $200 to $250 monthly.

The city is planning on installation of a relatively large sewage line on Blue Meadow Road which will serve the complex and be completed when the apartments are ready for occupancy, Buccola said.

He said there are no problems with city zoning ordinances because the area is already classified for multi-family residential construction (R-3).

The school board also authorized McCullouch to obtain an appraisal of the strip of school land to be sold so the trustees would have an idea of its value when bids are opened.

Service set for Captain McDonnell

A memorial service for Capt. John R. McDonnell, former commander of the Naval Oceanographic Command headquartered at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County, will be conducted at 8 p.m. tonight at Our Lady of The Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis.

Capt. McDonnell, 50, died Tuesday, April 10, 1984 at his residence in Diamondhead.

His remains were donated to the Louisiana State University Medical School in New Orleans.

Captain McDonnell, born in Parsons, Kan., graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1955.

He saw subsequent duty on two surface ships and five submarines, serving as first commanding officer of the U.S.S. Dolphin (AGSS-555), the world's deepest diving operational submarine.

At the time of his death he held five world records for deep submergence.

In 1977 he became commanding officer of the U.S. Naval Oceanographic Office and oversaw the move from Washington, D.C. to its present location here.

In 1978, Captain McDonnell was named first commanding officer of the newly formed Naval Oceanographic Command, comprising 50 weather and oceanographic commands worldwide.

He retired from the Navy in 1981.

Before his death, he was plant engineer for Global Associates at the Michoud Test Facility in New Orleans.

He was also president of the Diamondhead Property Owners Association.

Captain McDonnell is survived by his wife Mary of Diamondhead; two daughters, Lt.j.g. Jeanne Johnson of Woodbridge, Va. and Shelli McDonnell of Diamondhead; and two sons, Lt.j.g. Daniel McDonnell of Norfolk, Va., and Midshipman David McDonnell of Annapolis, Md.; mother, Mrs. Randall E. McDonnell Sr., and a brother, Randall E. McDonnell Jr., both of Kansas City, Mo.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that remembrances be made to Annunciation Church, Kiln, Ms. 39556.

News Brief

REAPPRAISAL HEARINGS

Hancock County Assessor/Tax Collector E.D. Murtagh Jr. reports business property owners will soon receive notification of the results of the recent personal property reappraisal of their businesses, including inventory, furniture, fixtures, machinery and equipment.

The notification will inform owners of the appraised value of their property and give them an opportunity to discuss this value with a personal property appraiser.

Meetings with the appraiser will be held April 16-20 by appointment only at 725A Dunbar Ave., behind Hancock General Hospital.

Business owners should call 467-0197 for appointments.

The reappraisal, Murtagh noted, is being conducted in compliance with a 1981 Mississippi Supreme Court decision requiring all counties to reappraise and equalize assessments.

Pearlington telephones tied to electronic switching

South Central Bell has announced that equipment has been added to the Pearlington central office that will make several convenience and cost controlling features available to customers in the 531 and 533 exchanges commencing April 14.

According to Don Roberts, district manager, South Central Bell, the additional equipment will connect the Pearlington exchange to an electronic switching system (ESS) that will allow customers access to several optional custom calling features that can individualize their service to meet specific needs.

These features are:

—Three Way Calling, which lets customers add a third person to their conversation.

—Call Forwarding, which lets customers transfer incoming calls automatically to any other telephone they can dial without operator assistance.

—Speed Calling, which allows customers to reach 8 or 10 frequently called numbers by dialing only two digits.

Customers who make few local calls will find that the Message Service option made available by this equipment provides an effective way of controlling the cost of their local service.

They will be able to cut their local monthly rate by 33 percent by taking advantage of this service option.

With this option, the new equipment will measure the customer's outgoing local calls similar to the measure of long distance calls, i.e. the distance called, the length of the call, and the time of the call.

Discounted times and days also apply to Measured Service in the same way they apply to long distance service. Customers who choose this option will continue to receive unlimited incoming calls.

The ESS equipment is a computer consisting of tiny transistors and integrated circuits with telephone numbers stored in a memory bank.

The equipment will be monitored on a 24-hour basis by a mini-computer located in the company's switching center.

This computer detects irregularities in the equipment, and an individual customer line, and sends a signal to maintenance personnel who analyze the data and take the corrective action before customer service is affected.

"We are pleased to bring this new technology and its benefits to our Pearlington customers," said Roberts.

"The versatility of this new equipment will enable us to provide new and innovative future services to the community as we move into the information age," added Roberts.

Power company reports refund average at $36

About $17 million in refund checks will be mailed to Mississippi Power Company's retail customers later this month as a result of the electric utility receiving only 62 percent of a rate increase sought in 1982.

At a hearing in Jackson on April 2, the state Public Service Commission approved $13.7 million of the Gulfport based utility's 1982 request for a $21.9 million annual rate increase.

The difference, $8.2 million a year for almost two years, will be refunded to customers plus 11.3 percent interest.

Because the company has been collecting 100 percent of the increase, as allowed by state law, customers will also see a decrease in rates.

"We estimate rates will decline about 2.5 percent beginning with bills received in April 6, 1984 in Gulfport.

Blakeslee said residential customers will receive an average refund of about $35, some more or less, depending on the amount of electricity they purchased from May 1982 to April 1984.

All of the refunds will be based on kilowatt-hour purchases and only those customers of record from May 5, 1982, to April 1984 will receive a refund," he said.

"Unmetered service, such as street and security lighting, was not affected by the rate case so there will be no refund on those payments.

Mississippi Power Company placed the rate increase into effect under bond and subject to refund with interest on May 5, 1982.

In October 1982 the PSC gave the company a zero rate increase in the rate case on February 14, 1984, overturning the PSC's zero order. The PSC followed the court's order in approving 62 percent of the request at Monday's hearing.

Blakeslee noted that Mississippi Power Company has not filed a rate increase in almost two years and the conclusion of this case will "help remove some of our financial uncertainties."

The 1982 retail rate case was only the eighth increase requested by Mississippi Power Company in its 59 years of operation. From 1925 to 1970, the utility's average residential cost per kilowatt-hour steadily decreased from 13.6 cents to 1.75 cents.

Since the Arab Oil Embargo and the double digit inflation of the 1970's, Mississippi Power Company's average price per kilowatt-hour has increased to just over six cents.

A member of the Southern electric system, Mississippi Power Company serves more than 166,000 customers in 23 southeastern Mississippi counties.

Blakeslee said the company did not appeal the Hinds County Chancery Court's ruling because the company expects to offset the loss in revenues when it begins to sell electricity to a neighboring utility in June.

"The revenues we will receive from Gulf States Utilities in Baton Rouge from the sale of electricity over our new 500 kilovolt transmission line will help to replace what we were denied in this rate case," Blakeslee said. "This is just one of the reasons why the 500 kV line is so important to the company and its customers."

STOLEN EQUIPMENT—Hancock County Investigator Delbert Seay checks 450 John Deere bulldozer and 650c Case backhoe front-end loader reportedly stolen in Texas. Several other heavy construction vehicles were also recovered Tuesday night in the BaySide-Lakeshore area, and one person arrested in connection with the thefts. An investigation continues by the Hancock County sheriff's office, Waveland Police Department and Highway Patrol investigators. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Five persons injured in Pearlington wreck

One of five persons injured in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon in western Hancock County was hospitalized at Hancock General Hospital.

The other four were taken to Slidell Memorial Hospital.

Luther H. Rushing, 48, of Long Beach, an officer with the state Tax Commission, was hospitalized at HGH with a broken leg following the accident, which occurred on State Road 604 in Pearlington about 3:30 p.m.

According to Mississippi Highway

Patrolman David Kenny, two cars were involved—a 1982 Chevrolet registered with the tax commission and 1983 Camaro.

The driver of the Camaro, Dennis Comeaux, 29, of Pearl River, La. suffered head and back injuries and authorities at the scene indicated he was in critical condition.

Levern Comeaux, 28, Jennifer Comeaux, 6, and Dennis Comeaux Jr. 10, apparently suffered less serious injuries. The Comeaux family was taken to Slidell Memorial Hospital Sunday night.

Hancock grand jury indictments reported

Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay said yesterday afternoon that Allen Nicolaou will probably be transferred today from Hancock County Jail to the state mental hospital at Whitfield.

Nicolaou's name is one of several released by the Sheriff's Department earlier this week following indictment by the Hancock County grand jury.

Nicolaou, 18, of Waveland, was indicted with two counts of capital murder in the shooting deaths of Gerald Comiskey and Keith McMillian at Comiskey's Waveland home on Jan. 27.

Nicolaou is also charged with armed robbery of the Olde Rooster Cafe in Kilm and with kidnapping two teenage girls from the cafe after fleeing the murder scene.

The list of indictments issued by the grand jury also includes:

—Robert Corkern, 21, of Shoreline Park, also charged with murder in the Comiskey-McMillian killings. Corkern is being held in Hancock jail.

—Dorothy E. Gosselin, 29, of Bay St. Louis, charged with the Feb. 23 murder of Richard E. Kosbab, also known as Dorothy Nicholson, is out of jail under $20,000 bond.

Rison County jail under $100,000 bond.

—Cecil Francis Turner, 51, of Bay St. Louis, charged with the Feb. 15 murder of Lewis Meyers and aggravated assault of Kenneth Meyers at Asher's Grocery.

—Mark K. Cuevas, 22, of DeLisle, charged with burglaries of two Diamondhead homes Jan. 18 and armed robbery of the Kilm Magic Mart Dec. 22. Cuevas is out of jail under $25,000 bond.

—Bert Lee Hall, 19, of Lumberton, Archie Boyd Blackwell III, 17, of Bogalusa, La. and John Travis Young, 15, of Bogalusa, La., charged with armed robbery of Sellers Grocery March 20.

—Robert Mitchell, 20, of Bay St. Louis, charged with escape from Hancock jail March 11. Mitchell is incarcerated at the state penitentiary at Parchman.

—Robert Poyaud II, 19, charged with uttering forgery Feb. 4. Poyaud, probation violator, is also being held at Parchman.

—Dorothy Ellis of Bay St. Louis charged with sale of Taiwin and Pyribenzamine, commonly known as "Tea and Blues" last Dec. 15. Ellis, also known as Dorothy Nicholson, is out of jail under $20,000 bond.

Texas heavy equipment recovered in Hancock

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Law enforcement officials were busy Wednesday morning checking for serial numbers on heavy equipment with an estimated value of more than $150,000, according to Ronald Peterson, Hancock County sheriff.

Peterson said, "Gary H. Taylor, 36, 215 Hillcrest St., Waveland, was charged with possession and receiving stolen property in connection with the vehicle thefts and is lodged in the Hancock County Jail in lieu of a $200,000 bond."

"The case is still being investigated by this department, the Mississippi Highway Patrol and Waveland Police Investigators, and more arrests are possible," Peterson added.

"The serial numbers were removed or replaced on several of the vehicles," T.P. Naylor, Mississippi Highway Patrol senior investigator, revealed Wednesday.

Delbert Seay, Hancock County investigator reported the investigation began when he and Glen Strong, Hancock deputy, on Tuesday evening checked a suspicious dump truck.

They were later joined by Naylor and Robert Tartaouille, Waveland investigator.

Officers report the vehicles recovered included:

- 650c Case Backhoe front end loader,
- 450 John Deere bulldozer,
- 9000 Ford diesel dump truck,
- 7000 Ford diesel truck with skidder,
- 350 one ton truck,
- Gooseneck low boy trailer,
- And Motorola two-way radio system.

Naylor said the vehicles were reportedly stolen from Pasadena, Tex. in February except the 9000 dump truck which was missing from Houston.

Bay Council approves apartment conversion

By NAN PATTON EMBRIGHT
City Attorney Joseph Gex recommends Bay St. Louis adopt ordinances dealing with condominiums to prevent potential future problems.

"I would recommend the Planning and Zoning Commission come up with proposed ordinances for future construction," he told City Council members Tuesday.

Tuesday the council approved the conversion of Louisville Garden Apartments to condominiums on condition that no time-share sales be allowed.

Councilmen Harry Farve and Sheldon Seuzeneau did not attend the brief recess meeting, but Councilmen Wilmer Seymour, James Thrifly and Gary Griffin were unanimous in accepting the plat, articles of incorporation and restrictions for the condominium complex.

Gex said the plans for the condominiums were "above board," legal and comply with state statutes on condominiums.

"I'm not talking about Louisville Garden Apartments in recommending new ordinances," he noted.

It was Thrifly who raised the question of time-sharing, saying some of his constituents had expressed concern about possible problems if time-sharing sales are being consummated. In another matter, Gex reported that cable television connections have begun in some parts of the annexed area of the city.

On his recommendation, the council accepted the proposal of The Essex Group and directed City Clerk Edward Fave to arrange for escrow of the $25,000 put up by Essex to guarantee fulfillment of the expansion of cable service in the Bay St. Louis area.

Essex, which is purchasing the cable television company in Hancock County, plans to spend $750,000 in construction during the next two years to upgrade the system, add new channels and expand services to areas of the county not presently being served.

Medical group honors Wiggins physician

The Coast Counties Chapter of the American Association of Medical Assistants hosted the 18th annual Mississippi Society convention at the Broadwater Beach Hotel March 30-April 1.

A highlight of the convention was the presence of Carolyn Gerald, RN, CMA-C, M.D., a past member of Coast Counties Chapter and also a speaker at the inaugural banquet held Saturday.

Dr. Gerald has the distinction of being the first woman doctor in the Wiggins community.

A native of Wiggins, she began her medical career in 1964 after receiving an Associate Degree in Nursing from Perkinson Jr. College. In 1974 she became a Certified Medical Assistant, also achieving her Clinical Specialty. Just one year later she graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi where she continued working as a graduate student in the Department of Bio-Chemistry. Gerald received her M.D. degree in 1980 from the University of Mississippi School of Medicine in Jackson. During her senior year she was honored by being asked to serve in an exchange student program at the University of London Middlesex Hospital where she studied radiology.

After an internship at the USPHS Hospital in New Orleans, she was employed by the Mississippi State Board of Health as Public Health Officer for George and Stone Counties.

In July 1982, Gerald joined the staff at the Wiggins Clinic where she is presently employed. She is a member of the American College of General Practitioners, American Medical Association, the Mississippi Medical Association and the National Medical Association.

PRICES 50 YEARS AGO

Half a century ago this week sharecropper Robert Bryant bought a few staples at a general store in central Mississippi at prices that just don't compute in today's economy, carefully laid them on the floor of his mule-drawn wagon, and drove his wife home into a setting sun in an episode that was a commonplace happening then but nearly a fairytale today.

The business end of this transaction is contained in the 1934 ledger book of the Blake general store at Pocahontas, Mississippi, recently acquired through the A.C. Blake estate for historical preservation.

The writer's mother had made most of the bookkeeping entries in the old ledgerbooks, including those of Bryant on April 3, 1934.

It was yet during the Great Depression that Robert and his wife Katie had made the few purchases referred to in this account. The couple were good friends of this writer who at the time was but a small boy. Robert farmed on my father's place where he doubled as an overseer and occasionally lay preacher.

On that spring day half a century ago Robert had put on his account a pair of new overalls for 75 cents; a pair of hose for Katie, 25 cents; a pair of shoes for himself, $2.50; a can of snuff for Katie, 10 cents; a sack of flour, 60 cents; four pounds of rice, 24 cents; a gallon of coal oil for his lamps, 15 cents; and a nickel bar of soap.

Transportation to town had been at the expense of his two plowing mules who were fed a few extra ears of dry ear corn in a trough beneath the barn shed when they got home.

Perusal today of the old ledger books shows how much consumer prices have escalated over a 50-year span.

Cokes then were but a nickel, and were logged in the account book as "dope."

Coffee was 20 cents a pound compared to over $2.50 today.

Sugar was 7 cents a pound; lard, 10 cents a pound; and table molasses, 50 cents for a gallon in a "new bucket," according to the meticulous entry in the ledger.

Gasoline was hand-pumped for autos and trucks in front of the store for 22 cents a gallon. Often it fell my lot to swing the pump handle from side to side to pump more gasoline from the underground tank to the overhead glass cylinder that showed vertical gallonage numbers on an upright scale through the glass.

Motor oil went for 15 cents a quart in those days, and came from a bulk, hand-pumped upright tank that stood in the back of the store.

It was transferred from the tank to the motorblock via a sophisticated looking metal pitcher which had a flexible metal tube for a spout and a thumb-operated valve for releasing the oil through the spout.

Snacks across the old store's counters lacked today's fancy packaging and displays. Hoop cheese was hand-sliced with a butcher knife and weighed as it was cut and laid out on a sheet of white paper atop the customers even brought in a handful or boxful of eggs to trade for an equal value of merchandise.

Then, razor blades were 10 cents a pack; thread, 5 cents a spool; and Arm & Hammer brand baking soda, 5 cents per package.

Smokers paid 18 cents for a pack of cigarettes, yet cigars were seldom bought by the box despite the popularity of the boxes for other purposes.

Hard times, good ol' days—there really wasn't much difference in that era!

Minacapelli's presents popular "Oklahoma!"

Minacapelli's Dinner Theatre in Slidell, La. will present a six-week run of Rodgers' and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma!" began April 6.

Set in the early 1900's in Oklahoma Territory, the musical-comedy tells the story of the tempestuous courtship of Laurey the farmer by Curly the cowman, and contains such songs as "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning," "Surrey With The Fringe on Top," "Many a New Day," "People Will Say We're in Love," "I Can't Say No" and the rousing title song "Oklahoma."

When it opened on Broadway in 1943, "Oklahoma!" was hailed as "America's greatest musical comedy."

Playing the romantic leads of Curly and Laurey are Steve Osborn and Nancy Kearney. Osborn is making his first appearance at Minacapelli's but he is no stranger to local audiences, having appeared in "Bells Are Ringing" and "The Music Man" at the Beverly Dinner Theatre in New Orleans, La. He also toured for a year in "Camelot," first with Richard Burton and later with Richard Harris.

Kearney is making her third Minacapelli appearance, having been seen before as Sarah In "Guys and Dolls" and Jenny in "Chapter Two." Osborn and Kearney performed together in "The Music Man" at the Beverly.

Appearing as Ado Annie and her frustrated suitor Will Parker are Kim McGuire and Herbie John Lanoux.

McGuire is reprising the role she has done extensively in dinner theaters in the Midwest. She is also the choreographer in the Minacapelli production.

Lanoux, an accomplished dancer, has appeared at Minacapelli's in "Move Over Mrs. Markham," "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Hello Dolly."

Bob Krieger, the popular Channel 6 anchorman, portrays the villain Jud Fry in a drastic departure from his usual affable personality. An experienced dramatic performer, this is Krieger's first outing in musical theater.

As the comic peddler Frank Bennett is making his Minacapelli debut as a performer. A veteran of the New York stage and the New Orleans Repertory Theatre, Bennett has appeared in numerous plays at the Beverly. He also designed the costumes for "Oklahoma!"

Portraying Aunt Eller will be Katherine Yvonne Maher, making her fourth Minacapelli appearance, having previously been seen in "Guys and Dolls," "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Hello Dolly."

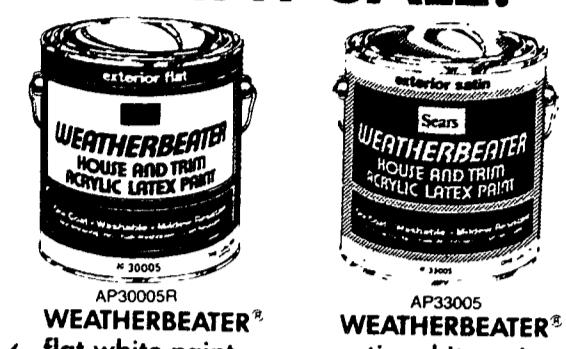

Also in the cast are Ken Mentel, Kevin Driscoll, Mitch Landry, Kim Ostreicher, Karen Church, Lesley Lennox and Tracey Walker.

Directing "Oklahoma!" is Bob Kearney.

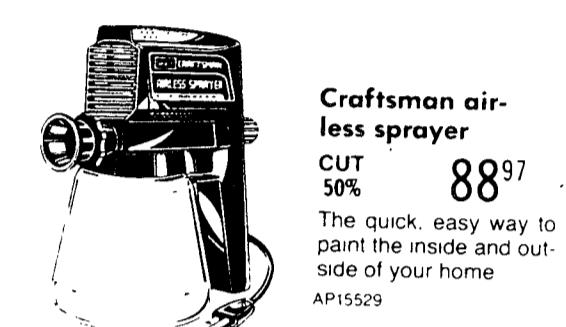

Musical director is Becky Childs; stage manager, Kris Keller; lights and sound, Cheryl Kruger and Brett Gault. Technical director is David Potter.

"Oklahoma!" will be presented every Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m., preceded by a 6:30 buffet. A special Sunday matinee at 2:15 p.m. will be preceded by a 1 p.m. buffet. For reservations call 643-9671 (Slidell) or 888-7000 (New Orleans.)

Pearlington Scout chosen to attend Stage in the Sage Jennifer Burrows of Pearlington from Gulf Pines Council has been selected by Girl Scouts of the USA to attend "Stage in the Sage" July 12 to Aug. 1.

This national event for 36 girls will be held at Girl Scout National Center West, a 14,000 acre site bordered by the Big Horn National Forest near Ten Sleep, Wyo.

Girl Scouts from all over the United States have been selected to participate in this three-week event which will include learning about theatrical production through active participation in the presentation of an Old West melodrama.

Participants will gain insight into all areas of drama including acting, singing, dancing, costuming, lighting, make-up, scene design and construction, directing and casting.

Each participant will also have an opportunity to investigate National Center West on foot and on horseback, to learn about its geology and archaeology and casting.

JENNIFER BURROWS

to observe its wildlife treasures.

At National Center West participants will live in tents, do all of their own cooking and generally "rough it" during their stay.

Jennifer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Burrows.

Camping Family Style BY ANGELA AND FORD BOTHWELL

If you're thinking of buying a van that's been converted for camping use, you'll have a lot of company on the highways.

Figures compiled by the Recreation Vehicle Industry Association, a national organization of 420 RV manufacturers and parts suppliers, show that 154,200 van conversions were shipped to dealers last year, an increase of 39% over the previous year's 111,300 total.

Travel trailers were the next biggest seller with 90,000 shipments, up 37% over 1982's total of 65,500.

The biggest percentage gain was made by motor homes, up 69%, with 69,500 shipped in 1983, compared with 41,200 in 1982.

Camping trailers were up 9% in 1983 with 37,500 units, while truck campers increased 19% to 6,800 units.

Overall, sales of RVs rose 39% last year, a total of 358,000, or 100,000 more than the year before. Last year was the biggest sales year for RVs since 1978, when 526,300 units were sold. The gas crunch the following spring contributed to a slump to 307,700 units sold in 1979. In 1980, high interest rates stymied RV buyers, and sales dropped to a low point of 181,400 units.

The improved economy, higher job security, plentiful gas supplies, the availability and cost of money, and a renewed emphasis on family togetherness and outdoor activities were the most frequently cited reasons for the 1983 increase in RV sales.

Moreover, sales will continue to rise in the next few years, according to RV industry forecasters at the Economics Department of Cahners Publishing Company, a corporate research firm in Boston, Mass. Cahners predicts that this year's RV sales will climb an additional 18% over 1983 and that 1985 will show a further gain of 3%.

What do these figures mean to you as a potential RV buyer or as an RV owner?

If you're in the market to buy, they indicate that prices aren't likely to come down with such a demand, and there may be a waiting list for some new models. However, sales mean turnovers, so there should be a bigger selection of used, trade-in RVs to choose from.

And if you're an RV owner, it means your unit will have a higher trade-in value should you decide to purchase a new model.

Emergency locator transmitter false alarms increasing here

The Ocean Springs-Keesler Composit Squadron, Mississippi Wing, Civil Air Patrol, was credited with another emergency locator transmitter find March 3.

The ELT, a small transmitter placed on board aircraft to aid in locating a crash site, was detected by the Search and Rescue Satellite System. SARSAT initiated a search by the Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center at Scott AFB, Ill.

Civil Air Patrol Maj. Hardy Soklik was contacted as mission coordinator for the search at 3:45 a.m. The satellite indicated the signal was in the Bay St. Louis area. After checking with airport staff, located the ELT signals as coming from an aircraft on the ramp at the airport.

The ELT was apparently activated accidentally by high winds during the night. The ELT was deactivated at 7:35 a.m., and the appropriate authorities notified.

Capt. Mary Breeding and 1st Lt. Michael Barnes, both from the Ocean Springs-Keesler Composit Squadron, were dispatched to Stennis Airport. Equipped with radio direction finding equipment, they, along with the airport staff, located the ELT signals as coming from an aircraft on the ramp at the airport.

The ELT was apparently activated accidentally by high winds during the night. The ELT was deactivated at 7:35 a.m., and the appropriate authorities notified.

The SARSAT system, a multi-national effort, has greatly increased the detection of emergency locator transmitters. The series of satellites covers any portion of the earth at least every 90 minutes. Prior to the satellite system, ELTs were only detected if someone listening to the emergency frequency entered the vicinity.

Not only does the SARSAT detect ELTs, it calculates the position, usually to within a few hundred meters. With this ever-listening "ear-in-the-sky," many more ELTs are being detected, a large majority of which are accidental. There have been more than a dozen ELT activations on the Gulf Coast in recent months.

Barnes, a communications and emergency services officer for the Keesler squadron, urges all pilots to pay particular attention to their ELTs. Many times the unit is removed from the aircraft, tossed in the flight bag and activated when the bag is dropped in the closet at home. Also, ELTs are becoming more popular with boaters, resulting in activations in marinas and storage areas.

If you eat seven greens on Good Friday, so goes the old Creole superstition, and meet seven people on that day, you will have good luck all through the coming year.

Another legend has it, that you will make a new friend for every green you put into the pot.

And thus the "Gumbo Z'Herbes," the green gumbo, traditional dish on Good Friday, was born. In the days of the old French Market in New Orleans, housewives were greeted at each stand by the vegetable hawkers, crying, "Get your greens, your seven greens," (or 12 or 15, depending upon the hawkers' supplies) at the various stands.

The Gumbo Z'Herbes (a contraction of Gumbo Aux Herbes) originally made without meat, was in earlier days the climax to the fasting and abstinence of the Lenten season, and, by the way, a tasty dish!

In more recent years, ham or veal or beef stew meat have often been added to the gumbo, and it is served all through the year, not just on Good Friday.

You may prefer it as more of a puree, in which case just run the greens through a sieve or blend a while at the near end of your cooking. At any rate, here's:

provided by Jarrell, Larry Favre and Mary Favre, market owners. Nelson has volunteered to rotate books and note which categories are most popular with borrowers so new books can be added. The collection currently includes Westerns, science fiction, Gothic romances, biographies and non-fiction. Residents may borrow as many books as they wish and return them when finished. Extended school year provided for some handicapped students

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Extending the school year for some handicapped students will not significantly affect Hancock County School District. Special Education Coordinator Jeannette Handshoe told school trustees.

The trustees revised school policies Monday to comply with State Department of Education regulations.

The state regulations provide that when it is necessary to ensure a free appropriate public education, each local school district will provide an extended school year to those handicapped students whose regression-recoupment syndrome is so severe that it can be predicted they will gain no benefit from their previous year's educational program as defined in the IEP (Individual Education Program) without that extended school year.

Background information supplied by Handshoe noted that states have been involved for at least five years in litigation relating to whether some handicapped students may require an extended school year.

In Pennsylvania, Missouri, Georgia, Hawaii and Mississippi, courts have consistently ruled that policies or practices which do not require local school districts to consider the possible necessity for extending programs beyond 180 days for handicapped children are invalid.

The primary purpose of an extended program, Handshoe explained, is maintenance of skills.

"All kids lose during the summer," she said.

"Most kids gain back what they lose in a relatively short time. But some handicapped kids don't. They need maintenance programs."

"You have to look at how much they regress during the summer and how much time it takes them to recoup."

Handshoe said experts estimate only two to three percent of the handicapped student population will require extended services.

With approximately 300 handicapped students in the Hancock County school system, she said, perhaps six to nine would need an extended school year.

This service, she said, could be provided in an at-home tutorial program.

The district, she noted, does not have to provide services to students not enrolled in the school district.

"If the district feels the service is needed but parents don't want it, then we wouldn't pursue it," she said.

And if parents feel the service is necessary and the district doesn't, parents are entitled to a hearing on the matter.

Handshoe said a bill passed by the Mississippi Senate and now in the House would appropriate funds for the program, with reimbursement to be made to local school districts for actual costs incurred.

In another matter, the board approved advertising for bids to sell trees from Section 16 lands.

The poles, Superintendent Terrell Randolph said, can be sold at prices ranging from $9 per pole to $16 or $18 per pole—much more than the district presently earns by selling timber for pulpwood at about $9 per cord.

"That might be six, seven, eight trees," he commented.

The county forester, which manages the district's forest lands, does not do pole-cutting, Randolph said, but will cooperate by marking selected poles.

Also Monday, the trustees:

—Approved attendance by Rhea Scafidi at the annual workshop for food service supervisors in Jackson May 7-10;

—Approved attendance by Randolph at the Gulf Coast Association of Superintendents' April meeting in Gulfport April 26; and —Approved attendance by Randolph at the 1984 Spring Institute of the Mississippi Academy for School Executives in Jackson April 30-May 1.

TROUBLE SLEEPING

You often hear about people having trouble getting to sleep at night. If you are one of those unfortunate who toss and turn for what seem like hours before getting to sleep, you can't always blame that cup of coffee or that glass of beer. Learn that coffee and beer doesn't help much. It may be that the trouble stems from the fact that you haven't learned to relax. But one can learn by practice. Don't work at relaxing. If after lying down, you are unable to relax, try to look out in what spot your body muscles are tensed. Then, gently, but firmly, squeeze them and relax them, and do the same for the feet, legs, arms, stomach muscles, etc. This will relax and sleep may come more quickly than if you are still nervous, jittery and tense and you are unable to relax. A Chiropractic examination and adjustment may be helpful.

Hospital fair scheduled

Hancock General Hospital will be sponsoring an arts and crafts fair for the general public Saturday, May 5, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the front lawn of the hospital.

The fair has been scheduled to kick off National Hospital Week, set for May 6-12.

Hospital employees will be displaying their handmade and homemade items for sale to the public, and portions of their proceeds will go to the hospital's beautification fund.

The general public is not only invited to attend the event, but also may rent space to display their own handcrafted items for sale.

The fee is $10 for a 10 x 10' space, and they are asked to provide their own tables.

Refreshments will also be provided for the day.

Persons interested in displaying their arts and crafts are urged to call Kathy Harrell at 467-9081, extension 182, or Mary Perkins, extension 165.

Salvager pledges to comply with order

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A Hancock County auto salvage yard operator has pledged to take action within the next two months to comply with the Junkyard Control Law.

Chancellor William Stewart of the Eighth Chancery Court District of Mississippi, Division One, Monday ordered Hayward Spiers of Hayward Spiers and Sons Auto Salvage and Body Shop on US-90 to correct violations cited by the State Highway Commission in a contempt of court complaint filed last summer.

The complaint resulted from Spiers' alleged violation of a 1980 court decree which ordered him at that time to comply with what Stewart dubbed the 'Lady Bird Johnson Law.'

Stewart also set another hearing at the County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis for 9:30 a.m. June 12 at which time Spiers must post a minimum $5,000 performance bond as requested by Attorney Mike Haas of Bay St. Louis who represents the state in the matter.

Haas said the bond is necessary to help insure Spiers' future compliance with the law.

The chancellor told Spiers that the bond amount could be increased to $10,000 if he does not correct the violations within the specified time.

Stewart said he frequently passes by Spiers' business and would be keeping an eye on his progress.

Spiers appeared in court without an attorney and said he wished to represent himself in court.

Wendell Whiddon, State Highway Department district sign representative, reported that since 1980 decree was issued he has received complaints about Spiers' operation.

He cited violations which include portions of automobiles in the US-90 right of way and Harbor Drive, a lack of screening in front of junked cars, parking on the highway right of way, the gate to the salvage yard on the south side of US-90 stays open which makes the yard visible, and screening on the south side is inadequate.

Haas asked that all the violations be corrected before the New Orleans World's Fair begins, but Spiers said he could not correct the gate problem before then.

Spiers explained he will construct a blind type fence just inside the present entrance and reroute the driveway there around it.

The salvage yard operator said all the other violations could be corrected within 10 days, but the gate project would take much longer.

In questioning Whiddon, Spiers attempted to prove that the state official allowed the salvage yard to continue what is now cited as violations.

But the chancellor advised Spiers that anything previously agreed upon 'in settlement' could not be utilized in his questioning.

"That's the risk you run when you don't get things in writing," Stewart said.

However, Stewart complimented Spiers' in his defense and stated, "You reaffirm my faith in the native Mississippian. You defended yourself as well as any attorney could."

Spiers also contended the junkyard law did not apply in this case because his business is an 'automotive dismantling operation' and not a scrap operation.

Stewart stated, "You are raising the constitutionality of the law. The intent of the law is to keep the public from observing these operations. I think you would be well advised to screen it."

The chancellor issued a decree pro confesso which basically states that Spiers admitted to the violations cited by the state and Stewart reserves the right for judgement at the end of the 60-day period.

500kv line across Hancock to be in service by June 1

Mississippi Power Company's 500 kilovolt transmission line across southeast Mississippi has been completed and will be energized by June 1.

Alan Barton, president of the Gulfport-based utility said, "We're pleased the construction of this line was finished on schedule because it will be of great economic benefit to our customers and will strengthen the reliability of southeast Mississippi's electric system," Barton said.

A substation, which will step up the voltage of electricity to be transmitted over the line, is more than 90 percent complete. This facility at Mississippi Power Company's Plant Daniel in Jackson County is scheduled for completion by late May.

Barton said Mississippi Power Company customers will benefit from the sale of electricity to other utilities over the 500 kv line. "This will provide our company with a source of income other than Mississippi ratepayers and will have the effect of deferring or decreasing future rate increases."

Mississippi Power Company has a contract to sell electricity to Gulf States Utilities in Louisiana. And, because GSU is in need of additional electricity, it has agreed to pay Mississippi Power Company for the cost of construction, operation and maintenance of the 500 kv line.

"This line will lessen our future revenue requirements and it will not cost our customers any money because GSU is reimbursing us for all the expenses involved," Barton said. "This represents a real bargain for our customers."

Barton said the 500 kv line will give Mississippi Power Company a strong tie to the west that can be used to import electricity into the utility's service area when needed, such as after a hurricane.

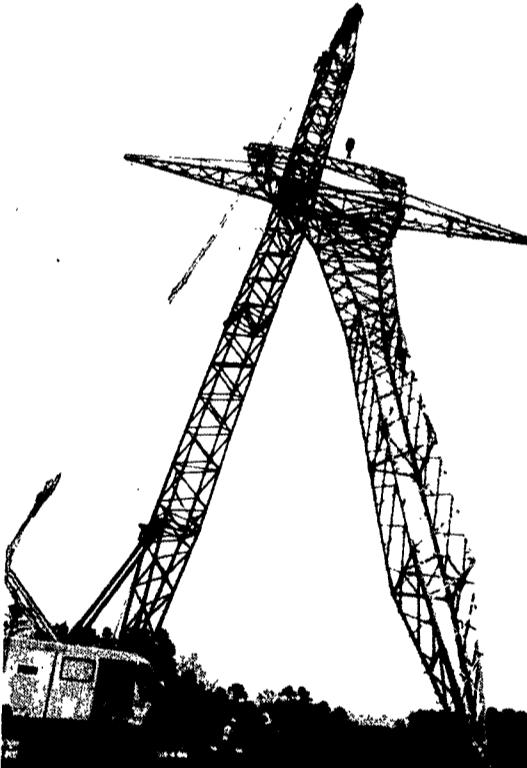

Building the line has provided employment for about 300 contract workers. More than 50 Mississippi Power Company personnel have also worked on the project which began in June 1983. The 77-mile line has 362 towers and will transmit more electricity than any Mississippi Power Company transmission line. It originates at Plant Daniel and crosses Harrison, Hancock and Pearl River counties to the Louisiana state line at the Pearl River.

Mississippi Power Company is a member of the Southern electric system and serves more than 166,000 customers in 23 southeast Mississippi counties.

SUBSTATION WORK—Men work on switchers at a substation that will step up the voltage of electricity to be transmitted over Mississippi Power Company's 500 kv line. The facility is scheduled for completion by late May.

TRANSMISSION TOWER—Mississippi Power Company's 77-mile line across southeast Mississippi has 362 towers and will strengthen the reliability of southeast Mississippi's electric system.

McArthur, Kevin Bourg, John Russo, Mark Blackledge, Brandon Wheeler, Freddie West and Ron Allen; and rear from left, Coaches Wayne Martin and Jerry Bourg, Waveland Alderman Louie Smolensky, and Coaches Ray Kidd and Thomas O'Brien. Of five teams competing in Ocean Springs this weekend, two will emerge as representatives of the Coast in state playoffs in Starkville.

Bay Youth Soccer Report

Under 8 Tournament got underway this past weekend, and all Bay Area Youth Soccer teams were very competitive as four out of six teams survived the single-elimination round on Saturday to reach the round robin play.

UNDER 8

Here in the Bay at the Under 8 Tournament it was a day for number two, as every second place finisher upset a first place finisher.

The Ocean Springs "Jets" shut out Biloxi 3-0 while the Biloxi No. 2 downed Gulfport in a shootout.

Gateway Body Shop got past Singing River in the second shootout of the day.

Then Gulfport No. 2 edged past Coca Cola on the strength of an indirect kick directly in front of the goal which deflected off the goalkeeper.

In the first round-robin games Gateway Body Shop held a fresh Ocean Springs "Battlestars" eleven scoreless through the first half before running out of gas and falling 4-0. The Ocean Springs "Jets" also won its opening round-robin game over Biloxi.

The schedule for this weekend includes:

Saturday, April 14

9 a.m. Gulfport vs Ocean Springs "Battlestars"
Ocean Springs "Jets" vs Gateway Body Shop
10:30 a.m. Gulfport vs Ocean Springs (Girls)
12:30 p.m. Biloxi vs Gateway Body Shop
4 p.m. Ocean Springs "Jets" vs Ocean Springs "Battlestars"

Sunday, April 15

1:30 p.m. Ocean Springs "Jets" vs Gulfport
3 p.m. Ocean Springs "Battlestars" vs Biloxi
4:30 p.m. Gulfport vs Gateway Body Shop

UNDER 10

At Pascagoula in the Under 10 Tournament Lolacano's Health Spa had no problems against Biloxi, shutting them out 8-0. However, Bernard Construction lost a heartbreaker 1-0 on an early goal, despite fine goalkeeping by Brandon Wheeler.

On Saturday Lolacano's Health Spa plays at 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., and the semi-final and championship games are on Sunday at 1 p.m. and 4 p.m., respectively.

UNDER 12

In Ocean Springs it was a banner day for BAYS teams as Pat's Chevron won both the single-elimination and first round-

Rocks score 24 runs in early-week wins

St. Stanislaus used the 2-hit pitching of Casey Wittmann and an 11-hit attack to rout Pope John Paul of Slidell 11-0 in high school baseball action Tuesday.

SSC was never seriously threatened as the Rocks scored four runs in the top of the first inning and never looked back.

SSC also stole nine bases in the game.

St. Stanislaus started the game with a walk to Ron Artigues, who promptly stole second. Mark Logan then singled, scoring Artigues. David Pitalo's shot to the third baseman could not be handled.

Casey Wittmann followed with a single, scoring Logan. A Trey d'Armond single which hit the fence in left field scored both Pitalo and Logan, and the Rocks were on top 4-0.

d'Armond then stole second. Robert Peranich's check swing resulted in a grounder back to the pitcher. Donald Pitalo then hit a fly down the left field line which was caught, holding d'Armond at third base. Jake Welsh hit a pop fly to the second baseman, ending the inning.

The Rocks came back with three runs in the top of the fourth as d'Armond led off with a single, stole second, and scored on Peranich's single up the middle.

Peranich then stole second, and was left stranded at third as Pope John Paul retired the side.

St. Stanislaus followed with four more runs in the sixth inning as Mark Logan led off with a single.

Casey Wittmann's double in the left-center field gap scored Logan. d'Armond's fly to left could not be caught by the left fielder. Robert Peranich then tripled to center, scoring d'Armond from second.

Pope John Paul could never mount any attack as Casey Wittmann struck out 9 batters while walking 2. d'Armond led the Rock hitting attack with 3 RBIs, followed by Logan, Wittmann and Peranich with 2 RBIs each.

The Rocks were scheduled to play Hancock North Central Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at Rock-A-Chaw Field.

ROCKS-13; HAWKS-7

The Hancock North Central Hawks defeated the Hancock 13-7 in baseball action Monday night on Hancock's diamond.

Winning pitcher was Matt Rosetti who struck out five while going the distance. Brett Favre was the losing pitcher.

St. Stanislaus opened the scoring in the top of the first inning when Ron Artigues walked. Mark Logan followed with a fielder's choice. After David Pitalo grounded to the pitcher, Chris Darling hit a two-run homer over the left field fence.

Hancock threatened in the bottom of the first when Scott Favre tripled to right field, but Stanley Jordan struck out to end the inning.

Robert Peranich walked to lead off the second for the Rocks. Matt Rosetti then singled. Donald Pitalo's sacrifice bunt advanced the runners to second and third. After Ron Artigues walked, Mark Logan then singled to drive in two runs.

Hancock came back in the bottom of the second to score two runs as Kendall Necessaire and Brett Favre both walked. After Darren Hodak struck out, Drew Malley walked. Necessaire and Favre scored on smart base-running by the Hawks.

In the third inning, David Pitalo walked and Chris Darling singled sharply to center field. Casey Wittmann followed with a single, scoring Pitalo. Robert Peranich was hit by a wild pitch. Matt Rosetti's sacrifice hit scored Darling.

In the bottom of the third inning, the Hawks picked up a run when Lewis was safe on an infield error and stole second. Scott Favre singled and Stanley Jordan sacrificed, scoring Lewis.

The Rocks came back to pick up a run in the fourth inning on Mark Logan's home run over the left field fence.

In the fifth inning Ron Artigues and Mark Logan walked. David Pitalo singled home Artigues and Logan, making the score after five innings SSC, 12; HNC, 6.

The Hawks picked up 3 runs when Wickton and Charles Burton led off with walks, stole second and third and scored on Stanley Jordan's sacrifice. Hancock and Stanislaus each scored a run in the 7th inning to end the game 13-7.

Diamondhead's new tennis coach lists Spring program schedule

Diamondhead's new tennis coach, Victor Ashcraft of Ozark, Ala., reports Tennis

World's Spring schedule of events will be open to the public.

St. Stanislaus followed with four more runs in the sixth inning as Mark Logan led off with a single.

Casey Wittmann's double in cludes:

—Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4:30 p.m. group lessons for juniors;

—Tuesdays from 9 a.m. to noon, adult group lessons;

—Wednesdays adult group lessons at 4 p.m. A group would include three to six people.

His Spring program in-Ashcraft will hold an open clinic for all ages.

This clinic will be for the serious players, and will be geared toward drills.

Ashcraft is also interested in getting men's, women's, and children's leagues started.

For information contact Ashcraft at Tennis World, 255-1421.

Terri Rhodes among five signed by The River

Pearl River College has signed five area basketball players to scholarships.

Ned Eades, the head coach of the Lady Wildcats, said Carla Guttry of Pearl River Central, Terri Rhodes of Bay St. Louis, Erica Cooper of Hattiesburg High and Debra Powell and Deidra Rawls of Sunrall High have all agreed to play at PRC next fall.

Guttry averaged 14 points per game for the Bay High Lady Tigers. She made all-conference, all-district and has been selected to play in the 1984 Mississippi High School All-Star game this summer.

Cooper averaged 12 points per game, while making all-conference and all-district at Hattiesburg High. She made several all-area and all-tournament teams this past season.

Powell averaged 15 points per game for the Sunrall Lady Bobcats. She made all-conference and all-district.

Rawls was point guard for Sunrall for three years. She averaged eight points per game.

Eades said he will sign several more area players in the near future.

TERRI RHODES SIGNS—Terri Rhodes, who averaged 14 points per game for the Bay High Lady Tigers last season, has signed a basketball scholarship with the Pearl River Central Lady Wildcats. Rhodes made all-conference and all-area in her sophomore, junior and senior years. She was selected to play in the Mississippi All-star game later this year. Zeke Bradley, coach of the Lady Tigers, said, "Terri is an outstanding player; a master of all skills." Pictured here are Ned Eades, head coach of the Lady Wildcats, Terri, her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rhodes and her brother Douglas.

COAST TENNIS CHAMPS—Victor Ashcraft, new tennis pro at Diamondhead, awards the championship plaque from Mississippi Gulf Coast Ladies' Tennis Association to Debra Siecken, captain of the Diamondhead team. Besides Siecken, team members are Cynthia Allen, Hilda Bourg, Michelle Brown, Carolyn Burkett, Ann Heitzmann, Mary McDonnell, Betsy Nolan, Jeanette Purser, and Elizabeth Watts. League play will resume in the fall.

Association awards to top $70,800

ARCA Talladega Super Car Series drivers will be vying for the largest purse in ARCA's 31-year history: $70,855 in posted awards, when they buckle in for the Permatex 500K on Saturday, May 5 at Alabama International Motor Speedway.

Naturally, the majority of the attention on Permatex 500K race day will be focused on the leader and potential winner, since the top spot could be worth over $8,000.

And if the 1984 ARCA Talladega Super Car Series races already run are any indication, Davey Allison's Miller High Life machine will be at the forefront of the action. Allison, who won the Georgia ARCA 150 at Atlanta International Raceway and finished 4th in the ARCA 200 at Daytona, would achieve two milestones with a victory in the Permatex 500K ARCA Talladega Super Car Series event.

He would eclipse six-time ARCA champion Iggy Katona's all-time ARCA superspeedway victories total (each now have three) and he would join Buddy Baker as the only driver ever to win three consecutive events at the ultra-competitive Alabama International Motor Speedway.

Davey, at the age of 21, won both the ARCA 500K and ARCA 200 races at AIMS in 1983.

The Permatex 500 will be no shoe-in for young Allison, though Bartow, Fla., driver Rick Wilson won the Daytona ARCA 200 when Allison spun late in the race, and finished second in the Georgia ARCA 150.

Among the other top entries expected are Pikeville, Ky., coal miner Ferrell Harris who won the '83 Daytona ARCA 200, Hueytown's ageless wonder Red Farmer, defending ARCA Talladega Series champion Bob Dotter, Dayton Enterprises ARCA Rookie of the Year Bill Venturini, '82 ARCA Talladega Series champion Scott Stovall, Duane Pieron, Bob Brevak, Lee Raymond and Jerry Churchill.

Cars will take the green flag at 1 p.m.

three pairs of running shoes for a random drawing of all participants.

The first 250 persons to register for the run will receive a Feelin' Good shirt.

The Waveland Police Department and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department will assist in traffic control for the protection of all participants. Mobile Medic Ambulance Service will also be available in the event of an emergency.

For more information concerning the race, contact Mary Perkins at 467-9081, extension 165 (8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays) or Marty Brown at 388-5834 (evenings).

The Afternoon Circle
Women of the Church have donated 27 hymns in memory of former church members.

Kay Coleman has resigned, with regrets, the chairman ship of the food closet.

All future donations are directed to new chairman,
June Johnston, 467-0438.

Mrs. Coleman requests that the past cooperation be continued.

As of April 10, 128 families representing 400 people have benefited from the 'food closet.'

Easter cake orders will be taken until Tuesday, April 17 by June Johnston at $4 each.

Proceeds from the sale will be donated to the church.

Saturday, April 14
Clean-up day is scheduled to begin with a Pancake Breakfast at 9 a.m. served by Perry Berens and Paul Smith for $1.50 per plate.

Please bring working tools.

Growing Child

GIFTED CHILDREN

Every child has special gifts that are waiting, like seeds, to be planted and nurtured so they can grow strong, flower, and bear fruit.

You can help your child develop natural gifts by noticing the interests and activities, and being patient, encouraging, and interested in his efforts, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

In addition to the help every child needs to develop his special gifts, some children who are exceptionally gifted require particular understanding and support in order to develop fully.

A child who seems quicker to learn, highly talented in many areas, and generally ahead of other children his age can sometimes have problems as a result of these outstanding qualities. Here are some of the ways in which highly gifted children can be misunderstood and deprived of needed support.

Sometimes an exceptionally gifted child may not be liked by other children because he is "different."

Or, a very mature child might be a favorite of adults but resented by children who keep hearing, "Why can't you be like him?"

Within a family a very talented child can be the object of jealousy by a less-talented sister or brother. It's important not to compare children to each other. Every child has his or her own special gifts as well as things he doesn't do as well as others.

At times adults can cause problems for highly-gifted child when they expect him to be as mature in every way as he is in his gifted area.

For example, parents or teachers may become impatient with a four-year-old who can talk, read, and write like an eight-year-old when the child behaves like a four-year-old.

ing and support in order to develop fully.

It's easy to forget that even though he's so advanced in some ways, he's still only four.

Research has shown that mentally advanced children generally are also more advanced physically, socially, and emotionally, but they have their ups and downs like every other child their age.

Sometimes very gifted children are pushed too hard and too fast in the areas of their special talents. This deprives them of a joyful, low-pressure childhood in which they can develop their talents at their own speed and pace, in their own way. Too much stress on a child's special gifts can interfere with his becoming a well-balanced, healthy, happy human being.

At times extremely gifted children don't receive enough attention from parents and teachers, especially if there are other children who have problems which require special help. The highly gifted child may be left to do for himself because "he's so smart, he doesn't need my help." He needs time to himself to develop at his own pace, but he also needs stimulation and guidance and encouragement from interested adults.

Sometimes adults who don't know an especially gifted child may treat him like a curiosity. For example, the two-and-a-half year old who seems to cause great distress to waiters and waitresses when he reads the menu and orders for himself.

Some children with special talents are "shown off" and asked to perform as if they were trained seals. A gifted child, just like any other human being, needs and deserves to be treated with respect and dignity.

Next: problems gifted children have in school, and what parents can do to minimize these problems.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information and a free sample newsletter, write to Growing Child, P. O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47901. Include child's birthdate when writing.

Singapore, the independent city-state with a population of nearly two million off the southern tip of Malaysia, was a prosperous trade center in the 13th century. It dwindled to a fishing village of about 250 inhabitants until Britain's Sir Stamford Raffles bought it from the sultan of Johore in 1819 and revived it as an international free port.

Professor Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, a Hungarian scientist, won a Nobel Prize in 1937 for his experiments with paprika. He discovered a group of substances in paprika called bioflavonoids which have been found valuable in maintaining the health of the body's capillary system.

The first practical air conditioner to control temperature and humidity was installed in a Brooklyn printing plant in 1902. Today air conditioners are used in hen houses, to boost egg production; barns, where hogs fatten faster and cows give more milk; and sugar refineries, to keep granules from lumping together.

THE CASE FOR ADVERTISING.

It's a common reaction.

You're watching a good movie or a gripping program on TV, and, just as you're inching toward the edge of your seat, you hear those dreaded words:

"We'll be right back after this."

You know what "this" is.

It's advertising.

Upset?

A lot of folks are.

In fact, some people are so upset that they ask their legislatures to put a tax on advertising so there'll be less of it. Some people even advocate that advertising be banned all together.

Imagine.

A world without advertising.

No bulky ads in the newspaper. No awkward, unfolding spreads in magazines. No commercials interrupting your favorite TV program. Or getting in the way of your favorite radio music.

Paradise, right?

Wrong.

Let us tell you what a world without advertising would really be like.

Heaven knows what this newspaper would cost you everyday.

Instead of small change, it could cost big dollars.

You see, all the people who buy ads in your paper subsidize most of the cost of your paper.

If there weren't ads to help pay those costs, somebody else would have to pay.

That somebody else would be you.

It's easy to say you'd be willing to pay more for a newspaper without advertising. A penny a day? Sure, why not?

But would you be willing to pay several more dollars a day?

Would you want your newspaper bill to be as high as your utility bills?

Of course you wouldn't.

Beyond that, there's a lot of news to be found in all that advertising.

You can find out who has things on sale, who offers the best food prices, who's running a sale on the shiny new car you're just dying to have. The list of ways you can save money by reading ads is almost endless.

So advertising not only saves you money in the price of your daily paper, it constantly shows you ways to save much more money all the time.

Still think there shouldn't be advertising in newspapers?

What are you? Rich or something?

The same holds true for your favorite magazines.

Even though the price of magazines keeps going up, the contributions of advertisers help keep those increases down.

MOTOR ROAD

This ad has been brought to you as a public service of the Greater Jackson Advertising Club, The Mississippi Press Association, The Mississippi Broadcasters Association, The Mississippi Outdoor Advertising Association and The Mississippi Association of Advertising Agencies.

(Before you say it, yes, magazines used to cost a quarter. But stamps used to cost two cents, a phone call used to cost a nickel, and a blue plate special was only forty cents at the best joint in town. Like it or not, inflation is here to stay.)

A magazine costs considerably more per page to print than a newspaper. For one thing, the quality of paper used is superior and is far more expensive. And don't forget all those color pictures. They're not cheap to print.

On top of that, most magazines have a circulation smaller than that of a metropolitan daily newspaper. That's because most magazines appeal to a small group of people interested in only one thing, while newspapers are printed for everybody who's interested in anything. Case in point: If you weren't interested in tennis, why the devil would you ever buy "Tennis World" magazine? Case closed.

Magazines allow advertisers to advertise their products and services only to the people who may be interested in buying them (or does everybody need the latest graphite tennis racket?), and, once again, those advertising dollars allow those people to afford their favorite magazine (no matter how limited their interest may be).

Advertising on radio should be music to your ears.

When was the last time you paid to hear your favorite local radio station?

The answer is "never."

But guess who pays all those people who bring you all that entertainment? (After all, disk jockeys and newscasters don't work for free.)

You guessed it.

Advertising.

So a few minutes of listening to the latest news about an advertiser's product or service is a mighty small price to pay for everything else you're getting for free.

And look at it this way. If you don't like the ad you're listening to, you can always change the station. Or turn the thing off.

You're the one that's in control.

Why do you think there are now TV shows about TV commercials?

Because, believe it or not, a lot of people really like TV commercials.

It's true.

Some TV commercials produced are wonderful little half-minutes of film. And, yes, it's true, some stink. But that's true in every field of human endeavor.

Either way, they have one thing in common. Just like radio spots, TV commercials pick up the tab for all the movies, programs, soaps, news, weather and sports you see on local and network TV.

So the constant parade of local and network TV doesn't cost you a dime—only a few minutes of your time.

We think that's quite a bargain, don't you?

Advertising is more than a bargain.

Sometimes advertising is quite useful.

Have you ever been running low on gas on the highway, then breathed a sigh of relief when a sign told you a gas station was within easy reach? That's outdoor advertising.

Has anyone ever given you something useful with their company name printed on it? Maybe it's a hot pad, a ballpoint pen, or something equally useful. That's called specialty advertising.

And don't forget matchbooks you pick up in restaurants, hotels or almost anywhere else. If you don't think that's useful advertising, let's see you start a fire if you don't own a lighter. Chances are you have several matchbooks in your home.

The point is this.

Advertising touches your life everyday—with news about new products and services, with information about bargains to be found, with items you can use.

And it doesn't cost you a penny.

Or does it?

Some people say advertising makes everything cost more. They're wrong.

In most cases, the purpose of advertising is to sell something in large quantities.

When that happens, the cost of producing a product or providing a service goes down. Since American business is competitive, most companies lower their prices in order to beat the brains out of their competitors. Increased sales means increased profits after all.

So, in most cases, the money spent on advertising is designed to lower the cost of the things you buy, not raise it.

This brings us to a point that needs to be addressed.

Some people think utilities like the power company, the gas company and the phone company shouldn't be allowed to advertise. But if you carefully examine the advertising, you'll notice most utility advertising is actually teaching you to save money—offering valuable tips on how to use company services as economically as possible. So if you pay attention, you might just lower your utility bills.

And isn't that all you want in the first place?

Does advertising make people buy things they don't need?

Advertising doesn't force anyone to do anything.

Yes, it encourages people to buy products or services that can be classified as luxuries. But wouldn't life without luxuries be boring?

And the purchase of those "luxuries" means tens of millions of jobs in America alone, hundreds of millions of jobs around the world.

Granted, a "luxury" is a matter of definition.

Mankind got along quite well for thousands of years without the automobile, airplanes, telephones, the printed page, radio, television, electric light, air conditioning, and thousands of other things that we now take, if you will, for granted. So what's a luxury?

Unfortunately, advertising encourages some people to live a lifestyle they're incapable of affording.

But advertising didn't create fools.

Nor does it cater to them.

Advertising is designed to help sensible people make sensible purchasing decisions in an expanding marketplace.

Besides, if there were no advertising, would there be no fools?

What about advertising that lies?

Those of us in the industry hate it as much as you do.

Probably even more.

You see, advertising that lies is a black eye for the entire industry.

But some people will always try and pull a fast one.

When that happens, do what we do.

Hit 'em where it hurts.

Turn the rascals into a consumer protection agency. Then, until the rascals change their errant ways, refuse to do business with them. Believe us, the offenders will get the message loud and clear.

What about advertising that's stupid or offensive?

Call the advertiser, tell him you think the stuff is awful and that you refuse to buy from him until the bad ads go away.

Then stick to your guns.

Enough calls, combined with a sharp plunge in sales, and the bad stuff will be gone before you know it.

Does advertising promote inferior products?

Of course it does.

But before you say, "Aha!", think of how many times you've been intrigued with a new product. You may have bought it because the ads were clever. Or you may have bought it because you thought you might like it.

So you tried the product.

And you hated it.

Passionately.

You swore never to buy the product again.

If millions of people felt the same way you did, the product would die because nobody wanted to buy it again. So, in that sense, good advertising drives bad products out of existence.

But remember: Just because you hate a product, or have no use for it, that doesn't mean everybody else in the world feels the same way. It may be somebody else's very favorite.

What does advertising ask of you?

Not very much.

A little bit of time, a little bit of understanding, and, yes, a little bit of forgiveness.

Our industry isn't perfect. We know that as well as anybody.

But can you name an industry that is?

We hope this ad will help you see things our way. We hope it's helped to show you how many good things are brought to you in exchange for little more than a few minutes of your time.

For the time you've taken to hear us plead our case, and for all the time you've given our industry over the years, we only have one thing to say:

Thank you.

ADVERTISING
We bring a world of good things to you.

This ad has been brought to you as a public service of the Greater Jackson Advertising Club, The Mississippi Press Association, The Mississippi Broadcasters Association, The Mississippi Outdoor Advertising Association and The Mississippi Association of Advertising Agencies.

FREE ENTERPRISE

The first annual Free Enterprise Youth Conference held recently at The University of Mississippi brought together 200 Mississippi high school students and some of the state's top business and industrial firms to explore the topic, "America's Youth and the Free Enterprise System: What Do They Expect from Each Other?"

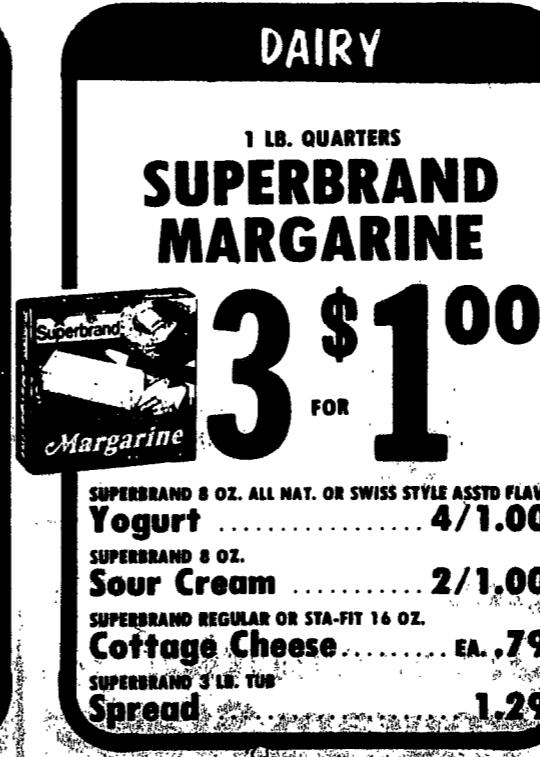

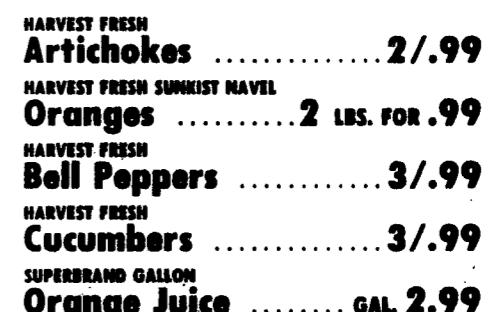

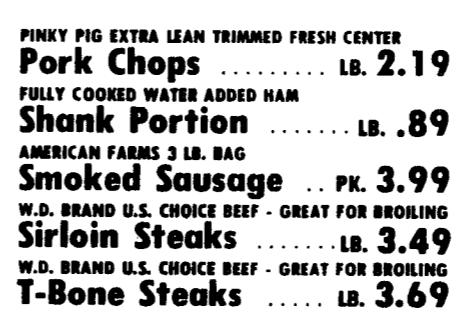

The Ole Miss conference was the latest in a series of four youth conferences held this year in institutions of higher education in Mississippi and was organized by the Free Enterprise Foundation of the University of Southern Mississippi.

DOUBLE COUPON SAVINGS

WITH A MINIMUM
 OF $5 NON-COUPON PURCHASE.

Clip coupons from your mail, magazines and newspapers... then bring them to Jitney Jungle for DOUBLE COUPON SAVINGS!

Redeem manufacturers' "cents-off" coupons by buying the items and we will DOUBLE the value stated on the coupons, with a minimum $5 non-coupon purchase. Our "DOUBLE SAVINGS" applies to manufacturers' coupons you clip from newspapers and magazines — not "free", tobacco, or other retailers' coupons. The only exceptions are listed below:

1 We will redeem DOUBLE the value of manufacturers' coupons up to 50¢. Coupons over 50¢ will be redeemed for $1. Coupons over $1 will be redeemed at face value.

2 Only one coffee coupon (including vacuum and instant) may be doubled per order.

3 If the double coupon value exceeds the retail price of the item, you will receive the item free, with no cash refund.

4 One coupon per item will be redeemed for double the value. All others will be redeemed at face value.

5 No more than ten coupons will be doubled unless the total purchase of non-coupon items exceeds $25.
